About Us - The St Aloysius College Old Scholars Association

Inspired by Catherine McAuley, SACOSA's charter is to

- foster the Mercy link between all old scholars and to continue the practice of compassionate and just work in the wider community
- provide a foundation for Mercy women to establish and preserve links between present and former scholars for the benefit of both groups
- maintain a database of alumni which can be used to promote the interests of the St Aloysius College Old Scholars Association and its members

Established in 1998, SACOSA operates as an extension of St Aloysius College and, as such, enjoys the support of the Principal, Ms Paddy McEvoy, who has provided SACOSA with a base at the College for its work.

The SACOSA Register

Registering with SACOSA is FREE and is open to ALL old scholars whether graduating in Year 12 or leaving the College in another year. The register is a vehicle for keeping in touch with old scholars on matters of mutual interest such as events and class reunions.

Events

Each year, SACOSA coordinates a number of functions. Assistance can also be provided to old scholars wishing to arrange class reunions or other events.

SACOSA Committee

If you would like to serve on the SACOSA Committee or become involved in any way, please contact the SACOSA Liaison Officer at the College.

About You - The Old Scholar

Updates on your life since leaving SAC are always most welcome. We love hearing about special events, reunions, marriages, births, deaths or any other interesting news. Photographs, too, are much appreciated. This information may be used in SACOSA newsletters or you may be invited to speak at one of our functions.

Our old scholars are extremely important to us and we are ONLY able to stay in touch with you if we have up to date contact information so please complete the registration form and send it to the SACOSA Liaison Officer at the College.
